Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 02 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and isolated showers.

Today:
Other than a few showers, Monday is expected to be a pleasant day with sunny spells and light winds. The cloud will be more extensive in southern areas through the afternoon. Feeling warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Long clear spells and light winds will lead to a much cooler night than of late, particularly in the north. Some patchy cloud will continue to affect southern areas. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tuesday:
A sunny start to Tuesday, but cloud soon bubbling up to give a few isolated showers, particularly in the east. Feeling warmer, with the light winds continuing. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Showers becoming more widespread through this period, particularly on Thursday where they will be heavy and thundery. Sunny spells between the showers, but generally cloudier on Thursday morning.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.